PREFACE
TO THE FOURTH EDITION.

THIS is the fourth edition of the Register, and its appearance may appear somewhat overdue, the third edition having been published in 1911. But its compilation has been a slow and laborious task, owing to the difficulty of recovering records, titles, and addresses, in the general dislocation caused by the Great War. Happily the Harrow Association, which has for the second time undertaken the task, has been able to secure the services as Editor of Mr. J. H. Stogdon, who has resided in Harrow all his life, and whose intimate knowledge of Harrow goes back almost to the year 1880, when his father took over West Acre as Housemaster.

The new edition is being printed in two volumes, viz. :

2nd Series, Vol. I, 1845-1885,

2nd Series, Vol. II, 1885-1925, and the idea is to issue Supplements in the future at shorter intervals, the first of these Supplements being 2nd Series, Vol. III, the second Vol. IV, and so on.

Any corrections should be addressed to John H. Stogdon, Esq., Wyndham Lodge, Harrow.

I trust that this new and up-to-date edition may prove as valuable a record of the life of Harrow as its predecessors in the past, and that the labour and cost of preparing this edition will be rewarded by a large and general demand.

NOTE BY THE EDITOR
TO VOLS. I and II, 2ND SERIES.

THE Head Master has referred to one of the chief causes of the delay in the appearance of this edition and I can only apologize for having taken so long over it. No Editor has had such a Great War to record, and I have tried my very best to give the fullest details obtainable about all Harrovians who served in it. I have only referred briefly to those who gave their lives for their Country, as a very full biography can be found in those six excellent Volumes of "Memorials of the Great War," edited with such very great care and labour by Mr. A. W. Wyatt-Smith and Mr. E. M. Butler, which are still obtainable from the School Book Shop.

The Committee of The Harrow Association decided that the time had arrived to cease recapitulating anything before 1845, and that this new series should be published in two volumes. I have only altered the nomenclature of the Houses after 1911, as I know the older generation love the old familiar names and will be saved the trouble of referring to the Appendix to see which house they or their friends were really in. The uninitiated will always have the puzzle of High Street, Bradbys, and Elmfield with them and it will be necessary in their case to look up the Appendix, where I hope I have made the position clear. The work has been of most intense interest, and the letters I have received from all over the world have shown me how keen is the love Harrovians still have for their old School.

It only remains for me to thank the previous Editor, Mr. Lionel Hewlett, for the valuable notes he left me; Mr. Fladgate and Mr. Cecil Goodden for the great help they always gave me, and the Publishers, Messrs. Longmans, Green and Co., for their invariable courtesy at all times.

JOHN H. STOGDON.

INDEX TO THE LIST OF ENTRIES

IN VOL. I AND VOL. II (2ND SERIES).

Additional information as to names marked with an asterisk will be found on pp. ix and x.

The reference is in all cases to the date of entry.

In the case of double names, all entries are made under the last name at the date of entry to the School, cross references being inserted to facilitate reference.

Additional names assumed since the date of entry are added in parentheses to the original name, and cross references have been inserted.

Where a different name has been assumed since the date of entry, cross references have been inserted, the date of entry being given in both cases.
